

Talking Childminders

Could you extend your childminding business by offering the following?

- Respite care to children on the edge of care
- A place of safety in an emergency
- A few hours to children looked after by foster carers so the foster carer can have a break
- Flexible childminding for people who work shifts
- A few hours to children with additional needs so their parents can have a break

By offering these services you will be providing a valuable service to children and their families.

There will be further opportunities for training and support towards a Talking Early Years and Childcare Quality Assured package.
